

It's All About Relationships

By Keith and April Jones

November 15 & 16, 2019

Inside Out Ministries International

We share open and honestly about our story and how our relationships have dramatically changed. No matter where you are in life, you will learn something about yourself that you did not already know.

This weekend we will be talking about what hinders us from having healthy relationships. We will show how our relationship with our father directly influences our identity and how we view God. Also discussing how our relationship with our mother affects all relationships in our lives.

Come join us as we learn how to be free and experience loving relationships.
